

Growing in 4th News

Room 205

April 20, 2018

Notes from Miss Anderson

- * In Reading, we read African folktales and Native American folktales. We discussed the themes and pattern of events.
- * In Writing, wrote opinion pieces and shared their ideas with others.
- * In Math, we began our focus on customary and metric conversions. This week we learned about customary length, capacity, and weight.
- * This Friday we had our PARCC Celebration in the afternoon. The students had a fun time participating in a variety of activities!
- * Spelling will begin again next week. Please look for your child's new spelling list.
- * Spring Cleanup in Meadowview's Outdoor Classroom will be on Sunday, May 6, 3:30-5:30. Any questions, call Jessica Albert 847-223-2369
- * Sign up at : <http://www.signupgenius.com/go/30e0449aaa82ca5fc1-meadowview>
- * Have a wonderful weekend!

This Week's Focus

Reading:

- I can identify the theme and pattern of events of folktales.
- I can compare and contrast folktales.
- I can support my thinking with details from the text.

Writing:

- I can write an opinion piece.

Math:

- I can convert customary units of length, capacity, and weight from one unit to another.

Science:

- I can observe how light transmitted through different mediums affects what I am able to see.

Social Studies:

- I can research the Southwest Region of the United States.

Upcoming Events

April 27 - Half Day
May 3 - Art Showcase

Respectful Citizens

Coming Soon!

Contact me at:

anderson.meredith@d46.org

847-223-3540 ext.5687

Twitter: @GrowingIn4th

Visit our classroom website:

<http://growingin4th.weebly.com>